Our history

St Ann's name has been synonymous with aged care in southern Tasmania for a century. The home has moved from Bellerive to New Town and finally to its current enviable location in Davey Street. The organisation has also branched out over the years, purchasing the Windermere Hostel in 2001 and constructing the St Ann's Compton Downs home in Old Beach in 1995.

The Compton Downs site was the brainchild of local MP Harry Quick, who identified a need for an aged care home in the area. The local community was rife with unemployment, so a major condition of the project was that local tradesmen and labourers would be used in the project.

Set on 16 hectares in a delightful semi-rural area of the Brighton Municipality, the site commands sweeping views of the surrounding mountains and Derwent River. St Ann's purchased the land from the council for the princely sum of $1 and set about creating a unique aged care development that created several "small houses" to create a more homely, aged care experience for residents.

More recently the Royal Commission into Aged Care in Australia has strongly endorsed the small houses model, which shows the designers of this home were well ahead of their time!

With the addition of a retirement village and the expansion of residential housing nearby, the small suburb became known as Compton Downs, and the home was then re-named Wellington Views.

Steps on the path to aged care living

Before becoming a resident at Wellington Views, it's important for you and your loved ones to have an open, honest discussion about your needs and budget. For many, moving to residential aged care can be a significant lifestyle change that comes with many questions. Before you begin your journey, there are a couple of steps you can take to assess if this is the right move for you.

1. Determine your eligibility

To determine if you're eligible for aged care, you will need to be assessed by the Aged Care Assessment Service (ACAS) through My Aged Care, the Australian Government body responsible for aged care services. This can be organised through a doctor, social worker, or health professional.

For more information on Aged Care Assessments, you can speak with your doctor or a member of our helpful Customer Service team on 1300 144 144.

2. Find the right home

Everyone is different and that's why an aged care home that's a perfect fit for one person isn't necessarily the perfect fit for another. Finding the right aged care home is all about personal preferences, specific requirements, and aesthetic taste. That's why at Respect, we create our homes to offer something for everyone and to be as accommodating as possible.

You can book a tour of any of our Respect aged care homes to allow you to speak with residents and members of staff to provide a well-rounded view of what we offer. To book a tour of our homes you can contact a member of our helpful Customer Service team on 1300 144 144.

3. Understand costs

Your own personal circumstances and financial situation will influence the amount you pay for an aged care facility. The Government determines how much you pay or may be required to contribute. To better understand the costs associated with residential aged care, we recommend seeking financial advice before applying. The cost of residential aged care consists of care fees and accommodation fees, which we cover below:

- Basic daily fee: Covers living costs, such as meals, electricity, and laundry.
- Means based fee: This fee is calculated by the Department of Human Services based on your income and assets and is a contribution to the cost of your personal and clinical care.
- Accommodation payment: Paid through an upfront amount, daily payment or a combination of both, this cost includes the room that you will occupy.
- Extra services fee: There may be fees associated with any additionally elected optional services.

4. Apply to live at Wellington Views

After determining your eligibility and understanding fees, all prospective residents need to complete and submit an application. You may fill out an application in person at any of our homes. We recommend that you fill out an application with the assistance of your doctor and/or loved ones. Applicants may apply to multiple locations at the same time and are free to decline any offer.

5. Move in

As soon as we've determined that we can meet your needs and have a suitable vacancy, you will be notified with an offer of residence, along with a move-in date. If there are no available vacancies, we'll let you know when a space becomes available. You will be provided with a Resident Agreement, which outlines the services, fees, rights, and responsibilities. This legal document will need to be signed and returned before moving in.

We're here, every step of the way

At Respect, we know that choosing the right aged care home can be a daunting task. That's why our qualified and professional staff are experts in aged care and here to help guide and support you through the process. We can help with navigating assessment processes and the necessary paperwork and documentation to make your transition to residential aged care a breeze.
