CARE FEES AND ACCOMMODATION CHARGES EXPLAINED

(Effective from 1 November 2025)

Moving into a Doutta Galla home is an important step. We aim to make this transition as transparent as possible by helping you understand the costs involved. From 1 November 2025, new pricing arrangements under the Aged Care Act 2024 will apply to people entering residential care for the first time.

1. Basic Daily Fee

Every resident pays a basic daily fee, currently $65.55 per day, which contributes to meals, cleaning, laundry, heating and general living costs. The fee is set at 85% of the single basic age pension and is reviewed twice a year in line with pension changes.

2. Hotelling Contribution

Depending on your income and assets, you may pay a higher daily contribution towards your living costs. Services Australia determines this through a means assessment.

3. Non-Clinical Care Contribution (NCCC)

Those assessed as paying the maximum hotelling contribution may also contribute to personal care services such as bathing and mobility support. A daily cap of $105.30 (indexed) applies, as well as a lifetime cap of $135,318.69 (indexed) or four years of payments, whichever comes first.

4. Accommodation Payment

You may need to contribute to the cost of your room and facilities. This can be paid as a:

- Refundable Accommodation Deposit (RAD) / Refundable Accommodation Contribution (RAC) – a lump sum, refunded when you leave care. From 1 Nov 2025, providers may retain 2% of the RAD / RAC balance per year for up to five years.
- Daily Accommodation Payment (DAP) – a rental-style daily payment that will increase with indexation on 20 March and 20 September each year.
- Combination of RAD / RAC and DAP – part lump sum, part daily payment.

Government assistance may be available, depending on your means assessment.

5. Higher Everyday Living Fee

Optional for residents choosing additional or higher-quality services beyond standard care. You and Doutta Galla agree on the services and costs after entry. You have 28 days to withdraw and the agreement is reviewed annually.
