What is Living with Purpose?

'Living with purpose' is Carinity's promise, our care philosophy, and a way to give life more meaning.

We recognise each person is unique. We passionately believe everyone deserves to feel loved and supported, whatever their life's circumstances.

For over 70 years we've been integral to the lives of our residents and their families and what we've discovered is that the difference between really living, and just enduring, lies in the richness and variety of meaningful experiences.

'Living with purpose' is a core expression of Carinity's values and care philosophy. It underpins our approach to residential aged care and is fundamental to the creation of a sense of belonging.

Far from being places where people go to exist, our communities are where people go to live.
